DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Regarding claim 1, the phrase "such as" renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitations following the phrase are part of the claimed invention. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 4-23 and 26-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Argoitia et al. (US 2005/0123755 A1).

Argoitia discloses a security element comprising several layers located on top of each other, namely at least one a color shift effect producing interference element (18 of Fig. 1A, see [0005]) and a layer (14 of Fig. 1A) with magnetic properties, characterized in that a reflection layer (16 of Fig. 1A) is disposed between the layer with magnetic properties and the at least one interference element.

Regarding claims 4-9, Argoitia discloses the security element comprising diffraction structures (see Fig. 3).

Regarding claim 10, Argoitia discloses the interference element (1) comprises an absorber layer (see [0023]).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2, 3, 24 and 25 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Subject to claim rejection under 35 USC § 112, claims 2, 3, 24 and 25 are allowable over the prior art for at least the reason that the prior art fails to teach or reasonably suggest the layer with magnetic properties and the reflection layer having gaps in the form of symbols or patterns or coding i.e. partial removal of the reflecting layer and the layer with magnetic properties as set forth in the combination.
